Hi,

I tried for the last 2 days to get pass this error and I have exhausted every possible ways. I am attaching my screen captured so you can see the error message and the files that I already have generated.

Thank you!

I figured it out. I set the preference too specific, it was not able to find its files.

Glad you got it figured out and I'm sorry I wasn't here to respond sooner.

Do you have any recommendations on how to make the directions for setting the preferences folder more clear?

Thanks
Shea

Yes I am having the same problem. I changed the preference to the highest folder and am still getting the error.

Nevermind I had the preference set up too high. It needs to be directly on the folder created during setup.
